Statement on EU REACH Directive

The Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH) Regulation requires the identification of Substances of Very High Concern (SVHC) contained in articles above the threshold 0.1% w/w manufactured and marketed in the EU (Legal Reference EC 1907/2006).

In accordance with Article 33(1) of the REACH regulation, this communication applies to the below-referenced products included with this statement. Endress+Hauser products are manufactured in a way that the release of chemicals under normal and foreseeable circumstances does not take place.

Information is provided for all downstream users as soon as we become knowledgeable that our products consist of more than the above threshold.

See the table for the respective valid list: <https://echa.europa.eu/en/candidate-list-table>

Furthermore, the EU REACH Regulation restricts the manufacture, sale, or use, within the European Union, of substances listed in REACH Annex XVII. Restriction specifications and usage parameters are described in each substance's Annex XVII entry.

Endress+Hauser responsibly implements the restrictions of this list and, at the time of this declaration, does not manufacture or distribute any products containing substances from the currently valid REACH list of Annex XVII.

See the table for the respective valid list: <https://echa.europa.eu/en/substances-restricted-under-reach>

Endress+Hauser believes that the information it provides above is accurate. The information provided is based on data obtained from ongoing due diligence concerning goods and materials provided by third party suppliers. Endress+Hauser provides such information "AS IS", without any express or implied warranty of any kind. Endress+Hauser reserves the right to update and modify this communication, as it believes necessary or appropriate.

Recapitulation of the regulations of REACH (EC Regulation 1907/2006)

1. REACH is a new European Union regulation concerning the Registration, Evaluation, Authorization and restriction of Chemicals. It came into force on 1st June 2007. A major part of REACH is the requirement for manufacturers or importers of substances to register them with a central European Chemicals Agency \(EChA\). REACH applies to substances manufactured or imported into the EU in quantities of 1 ton per year or more.
2. REACH requires manufacturers and importers of a substance on its own or in a preparation to communicate how their substances or preparations can be used safely for humans and environment. The main instrument for this communication down the supply chain is the Safety Data Sheet (SDS). The manufacturer, importer or downstream user will prepare the SDS according to a similar principle as he did before REACH came into force. The main difference is that when required, the SDS will also have an annex including exposure scenarios specifying the conditions under which the substance or preparation can be used safely, for uses that have been identified. The quality of the SDSs is expected to improve due to REACH as more information will be available because of the registration process.
3. Suppliers of articles shall inform their customers about substances of very high concern contained in concentrations above 0.1%. Also, consumers can request such information.
4. REACH requires all substances that are intended to be released from articles during normal and reasonably foreseeable conditions of use to be registered according to the normal rules, if they are produced or imported in quantities exceeding 1 ton/year per producer or importer. In addition, all substances included in the candidate list and which are present in articles above a concentration limit of 0.1% weight by weight and above 1 tons per year must be notified to the agency (EChA).
5. Downstream users have a right to make their use known to the supplier and in doing so have to provide sufficient information to prepare an exposure scenario. This upstream communication will play an important role when a registrant prepares a chemical safety report, including exposure scenarios if required, as a part of the registration dossier.
